

To all of my fabulous 5th class girls and all the fabulous Parents....

The new term has begun and I'm here in Nenagh missing ye loads. I never thought I'd miss school as much as I do. I always knew how lucky I was to have a job that made me so happy and that everyday brought a smile and a laugh along with a real sense of love....but like everyone....I don't know if I fully appreciated it ALL THE TIME!

I spent the last 2 mornings ringing around, catching up with Mams and Dads and, most importantly getting to chat to you. I can't tell you how happy it has made me to hear you all sounding so well, so happy and so healthy. I miss ye so much.

My email address is available to all parents and children on the school website. Once you have linked in with me, I can then get in touch directly with you. I hope to hear from as many of you as can get in touch. It has really brightened my week being able to hear from you all.

Email as follows: rtreacy@mercyprimaryschool.ie

Thank you...thank you to the parents. This isn't easy. This isn't normal. Again...it will be ok. Do what you can with your kids weather that be baking, singing, tables, reading, drawing, talking....Do what works for you.

I don't know what will happen in the coming weeks. I don't think anyone does. I do know however, that the most important thing is that you all remain healthy, happy and active. I do know that whenever this is all over and we get to return to Mercy that I will do so with a spring in my step and the happiest of hearts. I do know that everything will be OK...you will catch up and anything you feel you have missed and we will have so much fun doing it. I do know that I am one of the luckiest teachers to have a group as lovely, funny and crazy as all of you. Roll on School!!

Missing these little heads.....
