

To my wonderful girls and parents,

This week is Sports Day - on whatever day you wish to have it. Send in pics and videos.

Also a virtual school tour as we missed out on our tour.

I thought about choosing one, but you all have such different interests, here is a link to the best virtual tours around the world. If you do decide to do one, let me know which one you did and what you thought of it.

We have come to the end of our distance learning, and it's been a strange journey. I want to thank you all again for your commitment and determination in continuing your education through these strange times. It wasn't easy for anyone and it takes hard work and grit to do what you've all done over the past few months, so well done everyone! If you can get through this, you can get through anything that life throws at you. I won't dwell too much on anything as I have said so much to you all already, and I know I will get to again at your graduation, and anyway ye know me girls...emotional central here, and I don't think I can cope with anymore crying this week!!!! Plus, I know I'll see you all soon, and I just cannot wait.

I will say a massive thank you to my girls and parents so much for keeping in contact with me these past few months, it really helped to keep me going to hear from you all and how you were doing. It was difficult some days to set work for you when I couldn't speak to you all properly, but to see your emails coming in made it all worth it, and I will miss that. But, I look forward to seeing you all again in August for your confirmation and at some stage for your graduation!! So we still have some really exciting times ahead.

You are such a wonderful group of girls, and individuals. You have made my time teaching you all so enjoyable, fun and exciting, you will never know how much I loved teaching you all and how much I looked forward to going into Mercy P every day because of each and every one of you. I know that each and every single one of you will thrive in secondary school, you'll have me forgotten after a few weeks...in a good way! 😊 You are going to have such an amazing time, so embrace it all and keep an open mind! Please continue to be the fabulous girls that you are, don't ever change because you are all incredible just the way you are, and I truly mean that.

Right that's it, I'm getting emotional, I'm stopping now, or I'll keep typing until I have about 40 pages of a letter written!!! And nobody wants that, let's be honest!! Stay fab girls! Teehan Family - I miss you my dudes!!

It's goodbye for now and I'll see you soon. Slán go fóill (Had to get the Gaeilge in).

Lots of Love,
Miss. Teehan
